

Modernizing technology to deliver efficiency gains

Organization Name: Inventec
Industry: Technology
Revenue: ~USD 18B (2024)
Employees: ~36,000

Mission-critical priority

Enhance efficiency and capitalize on new opportunities by modernizing technology and aligning with global technology trends to refine the strategic IT plan

How Gartner helped

The client used:

- Gartner research and toolkits that helped the client communicate with his team more easily and effectively
- Gartner Executive Partner who worked with the client to understand how to modernize the organization in the face of a talent shortage and legacy systems

Outcome

With support from Gartner for Executive Programs, the Chief Information Officer/Chief Information Security Officer was able to:

- Introduce efficiency gains and save 50% of the effort required compared to traditional development tools, which was a result of insights gained from discussions with Gartner Executive Partner and Analysts
- Improve communications with leadership and wider team and successfully navigate the technology by leveraging Gartner frameworks and structures

“As a CIO, you need a think tank to help you navigate the ocean of technology and to give you second opinion when you are making important decisions. Gartner can be a very good think tank for you.”

Hendry Huang, Chief Information Officer and Chief Information Security Officer, Inventec
